

Two Fairly Fat Guys

---

Dan Barker and Brian Reichheld are Norfolk County's Official Food Ambassadors, The Two Fairly Fat Guys.

The two long-time friends first appeared at the Norfolk County Fair and Horse Show as comic relief to the fledgling Flavour fest event, an appearance that they were assured would be a one-time thing. As the fates would have it, 10 years later they are the faces of the local food movement, appearing on television, radio ads, newspaper ads, and anywhere that will have them reminding you to "Know where your food comes from."

It is their great pleasure to be here with you today.
